DOCTRINAL STATEMENT

1. We believe in the sovereign trinity of God. God the Father, God the Son, God the Holy Spirit.
2. We believe the Bible to be the infallible word of God according to bibliology in the apostolic faith doctrine; This was taught by the disciples and written by Holy men of God, as they were inspired by the Spirit of God.
3. We believe in the salvation of Jesus Christ through the sacrifice on the cross; If you believe in your heart and confess with your mouth the Lord Jesus you shall be saved Romans 10:9.
4. We believe in water baptism by immersion and circumcision of the heart, in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ for the remission of sin.
5. We believe in the baptism and the New Testament indwelling of the Holy spirit with signs and wonders following the believer.
6. We believe in the gifts of the Holy spirit and the Ascension ministry that He gave some Apostles, Prophets, Evangelists, Pastors, and teachers for the work of the ministry, and maturing of His people.
7. We believe in the soon return of God for the redemption of mankind and the rapture of His church.
8. And the things that you have heard me teach in the presence of many other witnesses entrust to reliable people who will also be qualified to teach others. 2 Timothy 2:2

WHAT THE MAJORS ARE ALL ABOUT

APPLIED THEOLOGY

The study of Applied Theology emphasizes the practical expression of biblical truth and Christian doctrine in the life of the believer, the Church, and society. This field bridges the gap between theological understanding and everyday practice, guiding students to live out their faith with integrity, conviction, and purpose. Areas of focus include ethics, leadership, discipleship, pastoral care, social responsibility, and community engagement.

Students are encouraged to examine how theology informs decision-making, shapes moral character, and directs the mission of the Church in a changing world. By integrating theological reflection with ministry application, this course equips students to serve effectively, applying sound doctrine to real-world challenges with both wisdom and compassion.

BIBLICAL STUDIES

The field of Biblical Studies focuses on the exploration and interpretation of the Sacred Scriptures, emphasizing the central themes and key narratives found in both the Old and New Testaments. Students examine God's redemptive work, the covenant relationship with humanity, and the prophetic, wisdom, and apostolic writings that shape the Christian faith.

Alongside these themes, Biblical Studies also addresses the major doctrines revealed in the Word of God, such as the doctrines of God, Christ, the Holy Spirit, salvation, the Church, and eschatology. Careful attention is given to the historical, cultural, and literary contexts of Scripture, as well as to methods of interpretation including hermeneutics and exegesis.

The aim of this field is not only to foster academic understanding, but also to encourage spiritual growth, strengthen faith, and prepare students for effective ministry, teaching, and service in the Church and beyond.

CHRISTIAN COUNSELING

Christian Counseling is the study and practice of applying biblical truths and Christian principles to the counseling process. This field explores how Scripture and faith provide guidance, healing, and restoration for individuals, families, and communities. Students examine the goals of Christian counseling, the spiritual and practical techniques employed to achieve those goals, and the integration of prayer, biblical wisdom, and pastoral care into counseling practice.

A key component of this discipline involves comparing and contrasting Christian counseling with secular approaches, highlighting both the similarities in method and the distinctive reliance on biblical authority, spiritual formation, and the work of the Holy Spirit. Ultimately, Christian counseling seeks to equip students to serve with compassion, discernment, and faith-based insight, helping others find wholeness and direction in Christ.

DIVINITY

The Courses of Divinity explore the very nature of God—His sovereignty, deity, and the ministry revealed through divine encounters. This field engages students in the systematic study of theology while also cultivating a deep sense of spirituality rooted in Scripture. Emphasis is placed on understanding God's character, His work in creation and redemption, and the ways divine revelation has shaped the faith and practice of the Church. Through this study, students gain both theological knowledge and spiritual formation, preparing them for ministry and a deeper walk with God. Students are also challenged to wrestle with complex theological questions, developing critical thinking skills alongside spiritual discernment. Ultimately, the study of Divinity aims to equip future leaders with both intellectual depth and pastoral sensitivity, uniting head and heart in service to God and His people.

MINISTRY/ SACRAMENTAL

The Study of Ministry pertains to the work of the Lord, the life of His Church, and the service extended to God's people. This field examines both the spiritual and practical aspects of ministry, emphasizing the call to serve with humility, faithfulness, and excellence. Students receive training in the performance of ministerial duties, the responsibilities of leadership, and the pastoral care required to nurture and guide congregations.

Attention is also given to the sacraments of the Church—such as baptism, communion, marriage, and ordination preparing students to understand their theological significance and to administer them with reverence and integrity. In addition, the study explores the unique roles of both clergy and laity, highlighting how each contributes to the mission and growth of the Church through Word, worship, and sacrament.

SACRED MUSIC

This major is in the art of music to prepare students as directors, composers and conductors for verbal and non-verbal communication skills, musical/ liturgical knowledge, a generosity of spiritual, systematic and philosophical things that aide in leading and engaging others in the dedication to maintaining the integrity of music authenticity. These courses are also concentrating in the sacredness of music development, tradition, and preparation of students for work in various denominations and professional platforms as they study both modern and historical liturgical traditions to enhance the work and discipline of sacred music.

LEADERSHIP

The Courses of Leadership are designed to develop and cultivate the essential skills of effective leadership within each student. These classes focus on building character, vision, and the practical abilities needed to guide others with wisdom and integrity. Emphasis is placed on servant leadership, decision-making, communication, and the stewardship of influence.

The time spent in these courses aims to awaken and shape the leader within, inspiring students to grow in excellence and purpose. Through both theoretical study and practical application, students are equipped to lead in ministry, community, and organizational settings, reflecting Christ-like leadership in all they do.

CONSTRUCTIVE THEOLOGY

The study of Constructive Theology through the sacraments explores the meaning, practice, and spiritual significance of the central acts of Christian faith. The sacraments serve as visible signs of God's grace, reminders of Christ's work of salvation, and pathways for the believer's growth in the Spirit. Students examine the biblical foundations, historical development, and contemporary practice of the Seven Sacraments of the Church: Baptism, Confirmation (Chrismation), Eucharist (Holy Communion), Penance (Confession/Reconciliation), Anointing of the Sick, Holy Orders, and Matrimony.

This course not only highlights the theological depth and devotional importance of the sacraments but also trains students to discern their role in worship, pastoral care, and communal life. Attention is given to the differences between the sacramental theology of the historic Church and the practices of the contemporary Church, allowing students to understand both continuity and change in application.

The ultimate goal of this study is to equip students with a clear understanding of sacramental theology, preparing them to apply these truths to personal faith, pastoral ministry, and the life of the Church in today's world.
